EXCURSION TRAIN BOMBED AT LITTLE FERRY, N. Y.—TWENTY ARE IN HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, August 14.—Twenty women and children are in hospitals today, victims of bombers who hurled bombs against a crowded excursion train on the West Shore Railroad near Little Ferry, N. Y., in the first outbreak here since the rail strike began. State Police are looking for two men in an automobile who were observed near the scene of the bombing.

CLAIM ONLY STRIKE PREVENTION CLAUSE HOLDS UP AGREEMENT AT CLEVELAND NOW; LEWIS DECLARES 48 HOURS WILL SETTLE

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Hope for peace in the nation's coal fields brightened as the miner-operator wage conference, entering upon its second week, met here to iron out differences in the one point holding up an immediate agreement. That point is the issue of strike prevention measures the operators desire to include in the clauses in proposed agreement.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Administration leaders confidently expect a settlement of the bituminous coal strike within the next forty-eight hours, it was made known here today. Conferees of the unions and operators at Cleveland have reached the stage in their negotiations from which an announcement of an agreement is momentarily expected, advised from the labor Department today.

A ray of hope in the anthracite situation reached Washington today, when it became known that a conference of anthracite miners and operators would be held in Philadelphia this week, probably Wednesday or Thursday. Negotiations looking towards a settlement of the strike, it was stated at the labor Department, are under way and an agreement of both sides to such conference is expected.

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—An invitation to meet with anthracite operators Wednesday in this city was extended today to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, by S. D. Fairner, spokesman for the hard coal operators. The invitation was sent to Lewis by telegram. In the invitation Fairner said that the operators wished to express in advance their confident expectation that they in fix in conference a method of wage adjustment such that upon agreeing to it they would be able to take the men back at the old wage scale until such agreement actually takes place.

Lewis Accepts.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Anthracite operators and representatives of United Mine Workers will meet in Philadelphia Wednesday in an effort to end the mine strike in the anthracite fields. John L. Lewis, miners' leader, accepted an invitation from S. D. Fairner, chairman of the joint committee of the anthracite operators, to attend the conference.

A Surprise Saturday
Contrary to the general opinion at a proposal was to be made by the operators attending the Cleveland conference, division among them as to the form of their proposal or future negotiations with the miners developed and delayed the work of the joint sub-committee of operators and miners.

2 MEN ENTOMBED IN KENTUCKY MINE CAVE NEAR HARLAN

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Twelve men are entombed in a cave-in at Ewart, Kentucky, eleven miles from Harlan, Ky., according to reports reaching here today. Mine officials at Fiddleboro, Ky., said they had been unable to get definite details early today. The mine at Ewart has been in operation in spite of the coal strike.

RAIL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Representatives of railroad labor, following the collapse of President Harding's efforts to end the rail strike, are preparing to place the case of the striking shopmen before Congress. Warren F. Stone, leader of the Big Four brotherhoods, to whom the strikers have entrusted their cause, said the railroad labor leaders might take this action tomorrow when the House recesses after a month's recess. Just what would be asked of Congress was not revealed, but it is believed the brotherhoods will place information before Congressional committees tending to show that motive power is fast deteriorating into a dangerous condition and demand the strict enforcement of safety laws.

The brotherhoods may suggest that Congress create an impartial tribunal to settle the seniority question and other matters involved in the strike because of their feeling that the Railroad Labor Board, because of their decision shortly after the strike began, in which it virtually outlawed the strikers, showed prejudice on the seniority problem.

Bombs Explode in Yards at Roseville, California.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 14.—Violence in the railroad strike broke out early today when two bombs exploded in the Southern Pacific yards at Roseville, Cal. No one was reported injured.

Engineers, firemen and switchmen on local lines converging at Roseville, an important point for the Pacific Fruit Express, went on strike. This tie-up means an estimated loss of one

Death, Accidents and Fire Make Week-end of Tragedy

TWO LITTLE GIRLS HIT BY CAR WHEN GETTING OFF JITNEY

Little Betty Rishell, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rishell, of West Side and little Miss Shirley Lansberry, of Altoona, a visitor at the Rishell home, were knocked down on Turnpike avenue last evening about 7:15 o'clock by an automobile driven by Miss Catherine Bowes, of Turnpike avenue. The little folks had just got out of one of the Fullington jitneys near the Rishell home. When the jitney started to ward the hospital the little girls stepped out into the street for the purpose of crossing over. Miss Bowes was driving down Turnpike and as the children stepped from behind the moving jitney they were right in front of Miss Bowes' car. Startled by the sight of the car so near to them the children halted in their tracks and then tried to retreat. They steps back to the side of the avenue they had started from. By this time the car was upon them and despite all that Mrs. Bowes could do both little girls were struck and knocked down onto the street. The car was moving very slowly when it hit the children and to this fact alone is attributed the fortunate escape of the children from serious injury.

Both were considerably scratched and bruised, the Lansberry child complaining of her back which she struck the curb when she fell. They were carried into the Rishell home nearby and a doctor was quickly at hand to minister to their needs and they are doing very nicely today.

Susan Canfield Wilson, Prominent in W. C. T. U. Work, Died Here Today

Mrs. Susan Canfield Wilson, for years one of the best known W. C. T. U. workers in Central Pennsylvania, passed away at the home of her son, Floyd B. Wilson, 601 South Second street Sunday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, after a lingering illness, aged 68 years.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Jackson, Centre county, June 24, 1854, but spent the major portion of her life in Clearfield county, having resided at Houtzdale, Paradise, and for the past twenty or more years in Clearfield. She was a devoted, earnest Christian woman, a member of the Presbyterian church and devoted a very great deal of her time to church, temperance and moral uplift work. She was a most zealous prohibition worker for many years, being the energetic head of the county W. C. T. U. and her influence for good throughout this section was notable.

About two years ago while visiting in Pittsburgh Mrs. Wilson tripped and fell on the sidewalk incurring a wrist and knee very badly. Rheumatism developed in the injured joints and she suffered greatly during the latter months of her life. In February of 1921 she suffered a paralytic stroke and had been an invalid since that time.

She is survived by one son, Floyd B. Wilson, of Clearfield and one sister, Mrs. Jennie M. Blake, of Houtzdale. Funeral services will be held at the Wilson home on Second street at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and the remains will be taken Wednesday morning to Burnside for interment.

ISAAC OWENS LOSES BARN BY FIRE

The barn of Isaac Owens, located on his place just beyond the County Home farm, was totally destroyed by fire about 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have been caused by several little boys who were smoking about the building.

The barn and its contents, including a mow full of hay, oats, etc., went up in smoke, several head of stock alone being saved after considerable effort. Loss is placed at $2,500.

BLIND BOY CLIMBS POLE TO LIVE WIRE; KNOCKED TO EARTH

William Lese, a 12 year old Ocala boy, who is totally blind, saw stars Sunday evening. He, shinned up an electric light pole near his home and when he got to the cross arm on the pole the lad grasped a high tension wire and was knocked off the pole falling a distance of at least twenty feet to the ground.

He was gathered up unconscious and taken to the Cottage State Hospital at Philipsburg where it was found his injuries consisted of a bad bump on the head and slight burns on the hand which grasped the wire.

BILLY GOAT LOSES LIFE IN GARAGE FIRE LAST NIGHT

A fire which broke out at 9:30 o'clock last evening, practically destroyed the frame garage at the rear of the lot of John Lamano, on Merrill street.

Mr. Lamano was out driving at the time of the fire and thus saved his car from destruction. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have been caused by children playing with matches.

The building was a mass of flames when the alarm was sounded and as a lone freight train on the B. & O. P. road dined the firemen at the Nichols street crossing for a minute or two, the fire made a total wreck of the building, but the fire men had no trouble preventing the spread of the flames to the adjoining stables and garages in that section.

A billy goat, which had his habitat in the garage, lost his life in the fire. The loss will amount to about $100.

PHILPSBURGERS INJURED IN AUTO-TROLLEY COLLISION

Philpsburg, Aug. 14.—Miss John Barnes, with her son Joe at the wheel, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Alice Dulin, of Tuscon, Arizona; sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Barnes, of South Centre street and Mrs. Charles Leshner of North Front street, left here Saturday morning in the former's Winton car on a trip to Washington, D. C. About two hours later, on making the sharp curve at the east end of the Juniata bridge, their automobile, according to reports received in this city, was struck by a trolley car and badly damaged, and while all the other occupants received only minor bruises Mrs. John Barnes was less fortunate. She is reported to have sustained injuries of a very painful and probably serious character, necessitating her removal to one of the city hospitals.

Two Aviators Burned To Death On Wright Field; Plane Crashes To Earth

Dayton, O., Aug. 14.—Lieutenants Moriarty and Stoneberger were killed today at 10:45 a. m. when they fell in a flaming aeroplane here. They were flying at McCook's Field plane at a tremendous height over Wilbur Wright Field when suddenly it burst into flames and catapulted to the earth. Both bodies were burned to a crisp and horribly mangled.

RATTLER CROP A BIG ONE—ONE KILLED HAD 19 RATTLES—ANOTHER HAD NONE

Berry pickers and others who have been out into the woods hereabouts are reporting rattlesnakes exceptionally plenty and many of the vicious reptiles are being reported killed. People who claim to know say you can tell a rattler's age by the number of rattles he wears on the end of his tail. We are not prepared to say whether or not this is true, but if it is we want to claim the Barlow for William Dixon for killing the granddaddy of all the present crop of rattlesnakes in this region. GIRL, NINE, SUFFERS BROKEN ARM WHEN CAR LEAVES ROAD

Elma Williams, Daughter of Mrs. Mark Williams of So. 4th St. Has Very Serious Injuries.

NEAR RIDGWAY, PA.

Little Elma Williams, the 9 year old daughter of Mrs. Mark Williams of South Fourth street, is a patient in the Ridgway hospital suffering from serious injuries received when an automobile driven by Edward Gallagher slid off the road and up it on a steep hill near the Elk county capital.

The accident which resulted in the little girl's injury occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The car, which was occupied by the Gallagher and Williams families, when nearing Ridgway and while going up a very steep hill, Mr. Gallagher says he noted a Ford car in trouble alongside the road. When he approached the stranded Ford he sounded his horn as notice expect the driver would be able to get

NORTHCLIFFE, ABL E ENGLISH EDITOR, DIED EARLY TODAY

London, England, Aug. 14.—Victor Northcliffe died at 10:20 this morning at his residence at Carlton Gardens. The famous English publisher, who has been on the verge of death for over a week, succumbed peacefully in the roof top death chamber which was built to give him the benefit of all air possible. Northcliffe grew weaker throughout the night and scarcely opened his eyes. The publisher, who has been fighting for weeks against a mysterious malady contracted while he was on his trip around the world or while incognito in Germany this spring, was unable to speak during his last hours. News of Northcliffe's end was a blow to the entire empire. A complication of diseases, including toxic poisoning, which caused violent heart attacks, brought on the publisher's end. Leading physicians of the country and one of America's best were puzzled to diagnose the exact nature of the malady which slowly overcame him.

ANOTHER WRECK AT RAILWAY CROSSING NEAR THE HOGBACK

The railroad crossing on the Curwensville-Clearfield State road, just this side of the New York Central railroad bridge over the Susquehanna river, was the scene of a double barreled automobile accident Saturday night about 11 o'clock, which resulted in battering up and bruising quite severely Abe Richards and Bruce Robb, of the West Side.

Richards in his Ford and accompanied by Robb and two other young men were coming down the river from Curwensville. When they approached the crossing the lights from a car coming up the river so blinded Richards that he missed the road at the turn and when the car struck the guard rail along the road it toppled over and landed back on the highway. The other car drove on by.

At Hogback the Richards car passed a Ford occupied by F. L. Shugart and George Soulsby and about the time the Richards car landed in the road Shugart's and his weak-eyed Ford happened along. Shutting off his power while crossing the railroad track Shugart's lights were very dim and the first thing he knew he landed right on top of the upturned car and its occupants lying in the roadway.

The Ford "eat up" the wreck in great shape and was half way through before Shugart's got it stopped. Robb was lying alongside the wrecked car and the front wheel of the second Ford ran over his shoulder and neck and when Shugart heard the groans of the man he had run over he promptly backed the car over him again, the groans ceasing as the wheel once more passed over the prostrate man's neck.

Richards was badly cut up and bruised about the head and face and the Robb has been confined to his bed since having his injuries patched up. The other occupants of the two cars were not very much hurt although both Fords were badly smashed up.

M. J. OWENS DROPS DEAD PICKING BLACK BERRIES NEAR HOME

Morris J. Owens, one of Lawrence township's best known farmers, died in a field on his farm some time this morning as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Owens, who was 72 years of age, left his home about 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of picking some blackberries. He did not return for dinner and Mrs. Owens becoming alarmed at his absence had search made for him when he was found lying in the field dead.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Harry and Blake.

DE ANNUNZIO INJURED BY FALL

Cardonne, Italy, Aug. 14.—Gabriele de Annunzio, Pote-Airman of Italy, was seriously injured in the head today when he fell while walking in his garden.

ARC LIGHT DROPPED

The street arc light at the corner of Market and Front street went on a "little tool" of its own Sunday night, broke loose from its fastenings and dropped to the street. The drop occurred about 8:30 and occasioned a little excitement in the neighborhood until workmen of the Penn Public Service Company cut the juice off and removed all danger from the dangling wires.

HOUTZDALE WOMAN SERIOUSLY HURT AFTER TRUCK SPILL

Catherine Boulton Hit By Whirling Spoke In Broken Wheel While Rescuing Companions.

DEEP GASH IN BACK

Two truck loads of bathers returning from a swimming hole in Clearfield Creek near Madera to their homes at Houtzdale were badly injured and shaken up when one of the trucks crashed into a telephone pole along the road above Houtzdale and the other one closely following, plowed into the wreckage late yesterday afternoon.

The swimming hole is a popular spot, patronized by hundreds in the Houtzdale-Madera region every Sunday during the warm weather.

On their return journey the two trucks bearing the Houtzdale people were said to have been racing, the occupants of each urging their drivers to beat the other fellow to it. One truck, driven by a man named Jones, which was slightly in the lead, collided with a telephone pole on the road and bounced back right into the close-following second one. Several of the occupants of the trucks were thrown out onto the road and badly bumped and bruised. Among this number was Mrs. William Boulton and her son William, Jr.

Miss Catherine Boulton, bookkeeper in the office of the Houtzdale Water Company, and sister of Henry Boulton, Esq., of Clearfield, who is in the party, but had escaped serious injury, thus rushed to the rescue of the injured.

The truck which had been upset was still in gear, with the power on, and the broken wheels were rapidly revolving. As Miss Boulton attempted to assist one of the victims out of the wreckage one of the protruding spokes from the broken wheel pierced her back, passing through the flesh and causing a frightful wound.

The painfully injured young woman was placed in a high powered car and taken immediately to the Cottage State hospital at Philipsburg where her wound was given a first attention and where she is now recovering nicely. None of the other victims of the wreck were seriously hurt.

H. B. POWELL BREAKS BONE IN HEEL WHEN APPLE TREE BREAKS

H. B. Powell, President of the County National Bank, will be hobbling about on crutches for several weeks with one of his legs in a plaster cast as the result of an accident which befell him at his home on So. Second St. Saturday afternoon when he sustained a broken bone in his heel.

Mr. Powell went out to his garden Saturday afternoon and while he was inspecting an apple tree he discovered a boy stealing apples. Wanting to heap coals of fire on the boy's head, Mr. Powell called to him and told him not to steal the apples. He would be glad to give him all he wanted simply for the asking. Then seeking to impress the lesson of "honesty being the best policy" upon the boy, the apple owner produced a ladder and leaning it against one of the limbs of the tree, showed up the ladder to get some apples. When he was several feet from the ground the limb broke and the apple picker was precipitated to the ground.

In falling one of the rungs of the ladder struck Mr. Powell across the heel and broke the bone. The fracture was reduced by his family physician and the foot and leg encased in a plaster cast and it is likely take several weeks to heal.

BOY SCOUT CAMP IS LOOTED BY VANDALS DURING PAST WEEK

Thieves broke into the Boy Scout camp up at McPherson's recently and made a clean up of the place, tak- ing wearing apparel, equipment, etc., to the amount of $200 or $300.

The trunk of Scout Director War- ren was broken into and rifled of its contents, Mr. Warren placing his loss at $200.

This is the second time this camp has been robbed since it was built last year and an earnest effort is be- ing made to run the robbers down.

That's one thing that we are cranky about—repairs MUST be right. We get some watches and clocks to repair that look well nigh hopeless when they come in and when we hand them to the repair- man that is to do the job the only thing we tell him is to do the job and do it so that it is done absolute- ly right—no telling him to hurry, no telling him to get it out quickly—BUT DO IT RIGHT.

That's one of the rea- sons why folks tell you that they are getting bet- ter watch and clock ser- vice here than they ever got anywhere before in this city. That's the reason why our repairmen are going just as fast as they can go and do good work, all the time.

YOUR WASHING DONE AS YOU WOULD DO IT

When you send your washing to us, it is handled just as carefully and as conscientiously as you yourself would care for it in your own home.

The clothes are washed in rainsoft water, with pure neutral soap, rinsed in many more changes of soft water, dried in gentle breezes of warm air, and finished on ironers that conserve clothes life.

Then everything is returned to you as beautifully finished, and as fault- lessly ironed as the first day it came from the shops.

You not only enjoy greater conven- ience—no washing in the house, no drudgery or upset—but at the same time you save money. It costs less to have your clothes done by us than to employ a laundress.

Lewis Still Firm Against Arbitration
After a long caucus among themselves, the operators went directly into the afternoon meeting with the miners, refusing to announce whether they had reached any decision as to their demand. Some operators on the committee, however, were understood to have demanded that any agreement should provide for arbitration in the future. Before they held their caucus the operators had been told by President John L. Lewis that the miners would not accept arbitration.

Farrington's Position
Frank Farrington, the Illinois miners' president, who did not attend the committee session yesterday after serving notice that he did not regard any contract made here as a committee. In explanation of his position, Mr. Farrington made this statement:

"The unqualified statement that I have refused to sign a four-State agreement is enemy propaganda. As a matter of fact, at the time the story was circulated the miners and operators had not been able to get together on any kind of an agreement. However, I did tell my associates on the sub-scale committee that I would not sign a four-State agreement, embracing Illinois with only one Illinois operator, representing a production of 500,000 tons, present in the conference. To do that would mean that the particular mine in Illinois represented by this one operator would be allowed to go to work while the rest of the 95,000 mine workers in Illinois would be required to continue on strike. My position is that I will not sign a four-State agreement that does not give the Illinois miners to work at the same time."

Governor's Invited
A conference of Governors of bituminous coal producing States has been called to meet here on Tuesday to discuss the coal situation.

Governor Davis, of Ohio, and Groesbeck, of Michigan, late Saturday wired Governors McCray, of Indiana; Sprout, of Pennsylvania, and Small, of Illinois, invitations to attend Tuesday's meeting.

The invitations to the three Governors not here—Sprout, Small and McCray—was as follows:

"The situation in coal negotiations is such that we deem it advisable and helpful that you be here Tuesday morning next. Come either if convenient."

Brokers Limited on Profits.
The state fuel commission Saturday dealt a deathblow to the profiteering coal broker by arbitrarily fixing a maximum commission of 25 cents on the ton of bituminous coal between the mine and the consumer.

"Where several brokers in the past have successively taken a profit on coal before it reached the consumer, they will now all have the pleasure of dividing this 25 cents between them," remarked one member of the commission with a smile, following a meeting of that body in the Bellevue-Stratford.

The railroad transportation committee, which will have charge of priority arrangements for coal cars on railroads throughout the state, has been appointed by W. D. B. Ainey, chairman of the fuel commission, as follows: R. C. Morse, superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania system; J. T. Carbine, coal freight agent for the eastern region, Pennsylvania Railroad, and J. D. Landis, purchasing agent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway.

The fuel commission at yesterday's session decided to meet again on Tuesday in Harrisburg.

So far as fixing the price of bituminous coal at the mines, it became clear early in yesterday's meeting that the matter will resolve itself into a local affair, varying with the mine expense, such as thickness of veins and other conditions which differ widely in the various sections of the state.

Tuesday's meeting will be for the purpose of obtaining additional information on the bituminous situation to enable the commission to take further action. The conference at Harrisburg has been called by Chairman Ainey for 2 o'clock eastern standard time or Tuesday.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

We have been requested to give the following space in this column:

A QUERY.

Dear Odds and Ends—Do the people of the wealthy county seat of Clearfield county know they have an institution called "the jail" in their midst in which men are confined for weeks and months, shut off from exercise, air and sunshine? In some cases with scarcely sufficient clothing to cover their body. Some of them have not yet had trial. They may be innocent.

Strange justice in a town so full of lawyers. "The chief good is the suspension of the judgment, which tranquillity of mind follows like its shadow."

—One Who Does Know.

The last heard of buffalo in Pennsylvania were put out of business in Snyder county in 1799, while the last great wild pigeon nesting places at Cherry Springs, Potter county, were destroyed in 1882, according to Henry W. Shoemaker, noted authority on Pennsylvania history and wild life, who also says: "The Carolina parakeet, the heathcock, the elk, the moose, the beaver and the fisher-fox were all wiped out in a few years, and the ruffed grouse or pheasant and the quail are following them fast. Dr. Hornaday has sounded a tocsin and it is to be hoped that our present wild animals and birds, will be given adequate protection."

Will C. Barnes had an interesting article on rattlesnakes in a recent number of American Forestry.

Mr. Barnes has had a very wide experience. At one time he was a wholesale and retail dealer in rattlesnakes. He has known of two deaths due to rattlesnake bite—one in 1898, the other in 1899. The remainder of about a dozen folks he has seen bitten have recovered.

Since I am quoting from Mr. Barnes' story, I might as well give his method of treating a rattlesnake bite. He says:

"Above all, do not lose your head. Throw a tourniquet around the limb above the point of bite. Slash the wound, that it may bleed freely. Suck as much poison as possible out of the wound. Of course, spit out the poison and blood sucked, but if a little gets into the stomach it will do no harm.

"Once every 10 to 15 minutes loosen the tourniquet for a minute, then tighten it again.

"Inject a solution of permanganate of potash into the wound. Throw this in with a hypodermic syringe if one is available. Induce sweating.

"If alcohol is given, never give more than a teaspoonful. People do not recover because of the whiskey used but in spite of it."

If, in an experience extending over a quarter of a century, Mr. Barnes has seen only two fatal cases, and both of these more than 20 years ago, rattlesnake bite is not often fatal. Nevertheless, there are people who greatly fear rattlesnake bite. In fact, fear is responsible for some of the symptoms following bite.

If it were generally known that a specific was available there would be less apprehension and following a bite, the factor of fear would be lessened.

More than 1,000,000 American children between 10 and 15 years of age are engaged in gainful occupation, 1,060,858 being the exact figure, according to a census bureau report. Out of every 1,000 boys between those ages 113 were recorded as employed either on their own account or for wages, while 5.6 per cent of the girls were so employed.

Declaring that the pistol "serves NO useful purpose" in the community, the Committee on Law Enforcement included in its recommendations submitted to the American Bar Association at San Francisco last week one for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of pistols, and of cartridges or ammunition designed to be used in them, "save as such manufacture shall be necessary for governmental and official use under proper legal regulation and control."

"We find that more than 90 per cent of the crimes in this country are committed by the use of pistols," continued the report of the committee, of which Judge William B. Swaney of Chattanooga, Tenn., was chairman. "We find that the laws prohibiting the carrying of firearms or deadly weapons are ineffective—in fact that their work to the benefit of the community rather than the law-abiding citizen."

INEZ FORD

New York, Aug. 14.—Is there $25,000 worth of inspiration in this face? Could it move ones soul to write beautiful songs?

Miss Inez Ford, New York girl, who owns the face, says so. And a man she is suing for alleged breach of promise to marry says so.

A jury will have to decide. Meanwhile study the face and make up your own mind. Would it inspire you?

Miss Ford in her complaint declares she was the inspiration of a writer of popular song hits. After looking deeply into her eyes, she says, he'd reel off his compositions.

All this he denies—and also that he pledged to lead her to the marriage altar.

THE AMERICAN HOME

To the greatest number the American home is the purest symbol of nationality. Around it circle most of those things we like to remember. None but the very few expatriates view life abroad without wistfully casting back in their mind to the virtues and superiorities of the American home.

The cardinal element of the American home is its self-sufficiency. There is substantial reason for that. When this wonderful land was colonized it had to become either the prey of adventurers or the resource of constructive workers. Only by courageous effort, by a supreme devotion to the means of livelihood was the family established as the ancestor of this teeming people of great riches and superb achievement.

The foundation is in those homes, and ever must be; that is why the tradition of the American home is such an integral part of American life, as individual as any national characteristic can be, and as wholesome and permanent as anything man has created.

American society has traveled far and fast from the day of the stockade and prairie schooner. Some have it the journey has rubbed off the primitive virtues which made the rugged grandeur of the pioneer life. Modern invention has abolished most of the hardships, and not even the bitterest critic of modern social life can wish to bring back the perils and toils of the noble women who made those early American homes. It is probably true that the instincts are as true now as ever they were; that women remain women, and that the home is destined to endure as our most significant symbol.

The great upgrowth of big cities has indeed diminished the typical American home, the single residence, and to the extent that we have become a race of flat-dwellers, home-making has lost some of its sweetness. But that is in nowise the fault of the womanhood of the land who, perforce, follow the breadwinner in his quest for employment. Possibly the "better homes" week can recall the vision of the single home and impel the new generation of housewives to recreate, on modern lines, that which their mothers and grandmothers did in a different way.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS

Homing of the harvest will be a festival, indeed, this year. Nature promises her limit of bounty for the prosperity of the American people. Industry, wide-awake, is chafing to break the speed laws. Clashing elements among human atoms alone mar at the moment the prospect for a Thanksgiving in the late autumn of exceptional significance.

It has been a glorious season for the crops of the country, according to the August report of the government. Since the previous month's report the outlook for the harvest of many staples has increased by tens of millions of bushels. The figures are those of war debts and loans now applied to production that feed the people, challenges the capacity of commerce and enrich the nation. It is summarized in the word "bumper." A 3,000,000,000 bushel corn crop for the fourth time in the history of farming in the United States; a 93,100,000-ton hay crop, beating the 1919 crop by 1,300,000 tons; the second largest crop of white potatoes ever grown in the country—40,000,000 bushels; a record crop of sweet potatoes; a 200,000,000-bushel crop of apples, more than double that of last year; a peach crop second only to the record crop of 1915; the fourth largest crop of tobacco ever grown, estimated at 1,425,000,000 pounds—such are the forecasts based on the surveys of the government experts. The full details are almost romantic in their statistical immensity; more interesting than midsummer fiction read in hammocks at the seashore or in the mountains.

The crops are the basis of every people's prosperity, and when there be added to a bountiful harvest industrial health and vigor such as are reported from other governmental sources the no-materialization of tremendous prosperity can be due only to the contrariness in man. The natural combination spells employment and the dethronement of old High Cost of Living.

Marriage is usually looked at as something that brings change into a man's life. It also takes a lot out of his pocket.

A Chicago packer says the public is not taking advantage of the drop of 15 to 20 per cent in the price of hams. This is the first the public has heard about it.

Geologists who claim the earth is getting colder will be able to argue without diagrams next January.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry-Phelps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets.

Baby's Weight

The weight of your baby is important because it shows you whether or not he is thriving. If he does not gain for several weeks, something may be wrong. But at the same time it is necessary to take into consideration whether he is healthy and developing in other ways.

Some babies are smaller than others and grow more slowly. This does not necessarily mean they are less healthy.

If your baby sleeps soundly, has a good appetite, and digests his food well, and seems happy and strong you have no reason to worry even if the scales do not show a decided gain in weight every week. Do not overfeed your baby in an attempt to make him fat.

Some babies who are fed on prepared infant's food increase very rapidly in weight but not in strength and development.

A baby's average weight at birth is seven pounds. Most babies lose about one tenth of the birth weight during the first few days.

A normal breast-fed baby gains from 4 to 8 ounces a week the first six months of life, and after that from 4 to 6 ounces.

During the first five months, the average gain should be about 3 ounces, after that, about 4 ounces a week.

As a rule healthy babies gain steadily in weight every week during the first year, but from time to time there are periods of a few weeks when they do not gain at all. These are not serious when they are cutting teeth or in very hot weather.

After the first year baby does not gain weight as steadily. For this reason weight is not as much of a guide to his condition after he is a year old.

Weigh your baby once a week during the first six months, and at least once in two weeks during the last 6 months of his first year. During his second year weight him about once a month. Keep a weekly chart of his weight. It is a help to you and to the doctor when you have him come.

To weigh your baby, undress him entirely. Put a soft cloth in the scale and lay the baby on it. Weigh carefully, note the result, and then remove the baby. Weigh the cloth, and then subtract this amount from the first weight.

Be sure that you weigh your baby under the same conditions every time. The baby's weight varies at different periods of the day.

You will save yourself needless worry if you do not attempt to compare the weight of your baby with another. No two babies are alike. They vary greatly. Some are short and fat, others long and thin, yet both types may be healthy. The attempt to standardize the weight of your baby or child according to his height has proved a failure. After all, the real test of health in a baby or child is his resistance to disease.

WIDOWED BY TONG, SHE SEEKS TO END CHINESE GANG WARS.

MRS. COONG TSE SING

By GENE OHN

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—It has been left for a woman to halt Chinese tong warfare after all the efforts of police, immigration officials and peacekeepers had failed.

And by her action, which sets a precedent in the Chinatowns of America, Chinese womanhood for the first time has dared to voice itself in the councils of tongmen.

Women sought and were refused a place at the peace council of world nations, but Mrs. Chong Tse Sing has shown what a woman can do.

Her husband had been slain by a highbinder's bullet. He had been president of the Suey Sings, proudest of the tongs.

Under the well-established war rules, at least five ordinary lives should be taken to equal the score. Also, it has been the custom for widows to enjoy such revenge.

Casts Tradition Aside.

But not for Mrs. Chong. She looked upon her five fatherless children and to her came the cry of other bereaved mothers. So she ended her way into the war council. Only those versed in Chinese tradition may realize how daring was her step.

And this was her message in musical Cantonese to the heads of the tong:

"It is given to men to make wars and fight them. But in the end it is the women who are asked to pay the price in bereavement.

"For, however goes the warfare there will be fatherless children and widows.

"Do not rob more children and wives! In my own grief it has come to me that my fellow women, against who I nurse no grudge, should be spared.

"Instead of revenge let me ask for peace! Why should the innocent suffer?

Asks Mercy for Others.

"As widow of the man whose death you would avenge, as the one most directly affected, let me plead for the other women and children."

Such, says Mrs. Chong, must be the plea of all Chinese women in the future.

And it has brought a halt to what might have proved one of the bitterest tong wars on the Pacific coast.

getting wages of a lower purchasing value than those of before the war. Lines of coal cars were filed away on sidings. Shipping rates were down almost to the prewar levels but bottoms went begging. Demand was drying up in nearly all normal markets, and losses in many cases were so heavy as to foretell an irretrievable financial disaster.

Then came orders from strike-smitten America. That noise you heard in the east was loud cheers in Cardiff and Glasgow and Newcastle.

There was talk of the miners refusing to "scab" on the American strikers. William Straker, general Miners' Federation, said he considered it unlikely that the federation would take any official action against the export of coal to America—"for obvious reasons."

Last year American miners increased production during the national coal strike here, and the British miners have not forgotten. Moreover, wages have been so near the starvation line and there has been so much unemployment that a job looks like a job.

EXCURSION TRAIN BOMBED AT LITTLE FERRY, N. Y.—TWENTY ARE IN HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, August 14.—Twenty women and children are in hospitals today, victims of bombers who hurled bombs against a crowded excursion train on the West Shore Railroad near Little Ferry, N. Y., in the first outbreak here since the rail strike began. State Police are looking for two men in an automobile who were observed near the scene of the bombing.

CLAIM ONLY STRIKE PREVENTION CLAUSE HOLDS UP AGREEMENT AT CLEVELAND NOW; LEWIS DECLARES 48 HOURS WILL SETTLE

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Hope for peace in the nation's coal fields brightened as the miner-operator wage conference, entering upon its second week, met here to iron out differences in the one point holding up an immediate agreement. That point is the issue of strike prevention measures the operators desire to include in the clauses in proposed agreement.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Administration leaders confidently expect a settlement of the bituminous coal strike within the next forty-eight hours, it was made known here today. Conferees of the unions and operators at Cleveland have reached the stage in their negotiations from which an announcement of an agreement is momentarily expected, advised from the labor Department today.

A ray of hope in the anthracite situation reached Washington today, when it became known that a conference of anthracite miners and operators would be held in Philadelphia this week, probably Wednesday or Thursday. Negotiations looking towards a conference, it was stated at the labor Department, are under way and an agreement of both sides to such conference is expected.

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—An invitation to meet with anthracite operators Wednesday in this city was extended today to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, by S. D. Fairner, spokesman for the hard coal operators. The invitation was sent to Lewis by telegram. In the invitation Fairner said that the operators wished to express in advance their confident expectation that they in fix in conference a method of wage adjustment such that upon agreeing to it they would be able to take the men back at the old wage scale until such agreement actually takes place.

Lewis Accepts.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Anthracite operators and representatives of United Mine Workers will meet in Philadelphia Wednesday in an effort to end the mine strike in the anthracite fields. John L. Lewis, miners' leader, accepted an invitation from S. D. Fairner, chairman of the joint committee of the anthracite operators, to attend the conference.

A Surprise Saturday
Contrary to the general opinion at a proposal was to be made by the operators attending the Cleveland conference, division among them as to the form of their proposal or future negotiations with the miners developed and delayed the work of the joint sub-committee of operators and miners.

2 MEN ENTOMBED IN KENTUCKY MINE CAVE NEAR HARLAN

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Twelve men are entombed in cave-in at Ewart, Kentucky, eleven miles from Harlan, Ky., according to reports reaching here today. Mine officials at Fiddleboro, Ky., said they had been unable to get definite details early today. The mine at Ewart has been in operation in spite of the coal strike.

RAIL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Representatives of railroad labor, following the collapse of President Harding's efforts to end the rail strike, are preparing to place the case of the striking shopmen before Congress. Warren F. Stone, leader of the Big Four brotherhoods, to whom the strikers have entrusted their cause, said the railroad labor leaders might take this action tomorrow when the House reconvenes after a month's recess. Just what would be asked of Congress was not revealed, but it is believed the brotherhoods will place information before Congressional committees tending to show that motive power is fast deteriorating into a dangerous condition and demand the strict enforcement of safety laws.

The brotherhoods may suggest that Congress create an impartial tribunal to settle the seniority question and other matters involved in the strike because of their feeling that the Railroad Labor Board, because of their decision shortly after the strike began, in which it virtually outlawed the strikers, showed prejudice on the seniority problem.

Bombs Explode in Yards at Roseville, California.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 14.—Violence in the railroad strike broke out early today when two bombs exploded in the Southern Pacific yards at Roseville, Cal. No one was reported injured.

Engineers, firemen and switchmen on local lines converging at Roseville, an important point for the Pacific Fruit Express, went on strike. This tie-up means an estimated loss of one

TWO LITTLE GIRLS HIT BY CAR WHEN GETTING OFF JITNEY

Little Betty Rishell, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rishell, of West Side and little Miss Shirley Lansberry, of Altoona, a visitor at the Rishell home, were knocked down on Turnpike avenue last evening about 7:15 o'clock by an automobile driven by Miss Catherine Bowes, of Turnpike avenue. The little folks had just got out of one of the Fullington jitneys near the Rishell home. When the jitney started to ward the hospital the little girls stepped out into the street for the purpose of crossing over. Miss Bowes was driving down Turnpike and as the children stepped from behind the moving jitney they were right in front of Miss Bowes' car. Startled by the sight of the car so near to them the children halted in their tracks and then tried to retreat. They steps back to the side of the avenue they had started from. By this time the car was upon them and despite all that Mrs. Bowes could do both little girls were struck and knocked down onto the street. The car was moving very slowly when it hit the children and to this fact alone is attributed the fortunate escape of the children from serious injury.

Both were considerably scratched and bruised, the Lansberry child complaining of her back which struck the curb when she fell. They were carried into the Rishell home nearby and a doctor was quickly at hand to minister to their needs and they are doing very nicely today.

Susan Canfield Wilson, Prominent in W. C. T. U. Work, Died Here Today

Mrs. Susan Canfield Wilson, for years one of the best known W. C. T. U. workers in Central Pennsylvania, passed away at the home of her son, Floyd B. Wilson, 601 South Second street Sunday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, after a lingering illness, aged 68 years.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Jackson, Centre county, June 24, 1854, but spent the major portion of her life in Clearfield county, having resided at Houtzdale, Paradise, and for the past twenty or more years in Clearfield. She was a devoted, earnest Christian woman, a member of the Presbyterian church and devoted a very great deal of her time to church, temperance and moral uplift work. She was a most zealous prohibition worker for many years, being the energetic head of the county W. C. T. U. and her influence for good throughout this section was notable.

About two years ago while visiting in Pittsburgh Mrs. Wilson tripped and fell on the sidewalk incurring a wrist and knee very badly. Rheumatism developed in the injured joints and she suffered greatly during the latter months of her life. In February of 1921 she suffered a paralytic stroke and had been an invalid since that time.

She is survived by one son, Floyd B. Wilson, of Clearfield and one sister, Mrs. Jennie M. Blake, of Houtzdale. Funeral services will be held at the Wilson home on Second street at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and the remains will be taken Wednesday morning to Burnside for interment.

ISAAC OWENS LOSES BARN BY FIRE

The barn of Isaac Owens, located on his place just beyond the County Home farm, was totally destroyed by fire about 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have been caused by several little boys who were smoking about the building.

The barn and its contents, including a mow full of hay, oats, etc., went up in smoke, several head of stock alone being saved after considerable effort. Loss is placed at $2,500.

BLIND BOY CLIMBS POLE TO LIVE WIRE; KNOCKED TO EARTH

William Lese, a 12 year old Osceola boy, who is totally blind, saw stars Sunday evening. He, shinned up an electric light pole near his home and when he got to the cross arm on the pole the lad grasped a high tension wire and was knocked off the pole falling a distance of at least twenty feet to the ground.

He was gathered up unconscious and taken to the Cottage State Hospital at Philipsburg where it was found his injuries consisted of a bad bump on the head and slight burns on the hand which grasped the wire.

BILLY GOAT LOSES LIFE IN GARAGE FIRE LAST NIGHT

A fire which broke out at 9:30 o'clock last evening, practically destroyed the frame garage at the rear of the lot of John Lamano, on Merrill street.

Mr. Lamano was out driving at the time of the fire and thus saved his car from destruction. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have been caused by children playing with matches.

The building was a mass of flames when the alarm was sounded and as a lone freight train on the B. & O. P. road dethroned the firemen at the Nichols street crossing for a minute or two, the fire made a total wreck of the building, but the fire men had no trouble preventing the spread of the flames to the adjoining stables and garages in that section.

A billy goat, which had his habitat in the garage, lost his life in the fire. The loss will amount to about $100.

PHILIPSBURGERS INJURED IN AUTO-TROLLEY COLLISION

Philipsburg, Aug. 14.—Miss John Barnes, with her son Joe at the wheel, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Alice Dulin, of Tuscon, Arizona; sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Barnes, of South Centre street and Mrs. Charles Leshner of North Front street, left here Saturday morning in the former's Winton car on a trip to Washington, D. C. About two hours later, on making the sharp curve at the east end of the Juniata bridge, their automobile, according to reports received in this city, was struck by a trolley car and badly damaged, and while all the other occupants received only minor bruises Mrs. John Barnes was less fortunate. She is reported to have sustained injuries of a very painful and probably serious character, necessitating her removal to one of the city hospitals.

Two Aviators Burned To Death On Wright Field; Plane Crashes To Earth

Dayton, O., Aug. 14.—Lieutenants Moriarty and Stoneberger were killed today at 10:45 a. m. when they fell in a flaming aeroplane here. They were flying at McCook's Field plane at a tremendous height over Wilbur Wright Field when suddenly it burst into flames and catapulted to the earth. Both bodies were burned to a crisp and horribly mangled.

RATTLER CROP A BIG ONE—ONE KILLED HAD 19 RATTLES—ANOTHER HAD NONE

Berry pickers and others who have been out into the woods hereabouts are reporting rattlesnakes exceptionally plenty and many of the vicious reptiles are being reported killed. People who claim to know say you can tell a rattler's age by the number of rattles he wears on the end of his tail. We are not prepared to say whether or not this is true, but if it is we want to claim the Barlow for William Dixon for killing the granddaddy of all the present crop of rattlesnakes in this region. GIRL, NINE, SUFFERS BROKEN ARM WHEN CAR LEAVES ROAD

Elma Williams, Daughter of Mrs. Mark Williams of So. 4th St. Has Very Serious Injuries.

NEAR RIDGWAY, PA.

Little Elma Williams, the 9 year old daughter of Mrs. Mark Williams of South Fourth street, is a patient in the Ridgway hospital suffering from serious injuries received when an automobile driven by Edward Gallagher slid off the road and up on a steep hill near the Elk county capital.

The accident which resulted in the little girl's injury occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The car, which was occupied by the Gallagher and Williams families, when nearing Ridgway and while going up a very steep hill, Mr. Gallagher says he noted a Ford car in trouble alongside the road. When he approached the stranded Ford he sounded his horn as notice expect the driver would be able to get

NORTHCLIFFE, ABLE ENGLISH EDITOR, DIED EARLY TODAY

London, England, Aug. 14.—Victor Northcliffe died at 10:20 this morning at his residence at Carlton Gardens. The famous English publisher, who has been on the verge of death for over a week, succumbed peacefully in the roof top death chamber which was built to give him the benefit of all air possible. Northcliffe grew weaker throughout the night and scarcely opened his eyes. The publisher, who has been fighting for weeks against a mysterious malady contracted while he was on his trip around the world or while incognito in Germany this spring, was unable to speak during his last hours. News of Northcliffe's end was a blow to the entire empire. A complication of diseases, including toxic poisoning, which caused violent heart attacks, brought on the publisher's end. Leading physicians of the country and one of America's best were puzzled to diagnose the exact nature of the malady which slowly overcame him.

ANOTHER WRECK AT RAILWAY CROSSING NEAR THE HOGBACK

The railroad crossing on the Curwensville-Clearfield State road, just this side of the New York Central railroad bridge over the Susquehanna river, was the scene of a double barreled automobile accident Saturday night about 11 o'clock, which resulted in battering up and bruising quite severely Abe Richards and Bruce Robb, of the West Side.

Richards in his Ford and accompanied by Robb and two other young men were coming down the river from Curwensville. When they approached the crossing the lights from a car coming up the river so blinded Richards that he missed the road at the turn and when the car struck the guard rail along the road it toppled over and landed back on the highway. The other car drove on by.

At Hogback the Richards car passed a Ford occupied by F. L. Shugart and George Soulsby and about the time the Richards car landed in the road Shugart's and his weak-eyed Ford happened along. Shutting off his power while crossing the railroad track Shugart's lights were very dim and the first thing he knew he landed right on top of the upturned car and its occupants lying in the roadway.

The Ford "eat up" the wreck in great shape and was half way through before Shugart's got it stopped. Robb was lying alongside the wrecked car and the front wheel of the second Ford ran over his shoulder and neck and when Shugart heard the groans of the man he had run over he promptly backed the car over him again, the groans ceasing as the wheel once more passed over the prostrate man's neck.

Richards was badly cut up and bruised about the head and face and the Robb has been confined to his bed since having his injuries patched up. The other occupants of the two cars were not very much hurt although both Fords were badly smashed up.

M. J. OWENS DROPS DEAD PICKING BLACK BERRIES NEAR HOME

Morris J. Owens, one of Lawrence township's best known farmers, died in a field on his farm some time this morning as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Owens, who was 72 years of age, left his home about 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of picking some blackberries. He did not return for dinner and Mrs. Owens becoming alarmed at his absence had search made for him when he was found lying in the field dead.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Harry and Blake.

DE ANNUNZIO INJURED BY FALL

Cardonne, Italy, Aug. 14.—Gabriele de Annunzio, Pote-Airman of Italy, was seriously injured in the head today when he fell while walking in his garden.

ARC LIGHT DROPPED

The street arc light at the corner of Market and Front street went on a "little tool" of its own Sunday night, broke loose from its fastenings and dropped to the street. The drop occurred about 8:30 and occasioned a little excitement in the neighborhood until workmen of the Penn Public Service Company cut the juice off and removed all danger from the dangling wires.

HOUTZDALE WOMAN SERIOUSLY HURT AFTER TRUCK SPILL

Catherine Boulton Hit By Whirling Spoke In Broken Wheel While Rescuing Companions.

DEEP GASH IN BACK

Two truck loads of bathers returning from a swimming hole in Clearfield Creek near Madera to their homes at Houtzdale were badly injured and shaken up when one of the trucks crashed into a telephone pole along the road above Houtzdale and the other one closely following, plowed into the wreckage late yesterday afternoon.

The swimming hole is a popular spot, patronized by hundreds in the Houtzdale-Madera region every Sunday during the warm weather.

On their return journey the two trucks bearing the Houtzdale people were said to have been racing, the occupants of each urging their drivers to beat the other fellow to it. One truck, driven by a man named Jones, which was slightly in the lead, collided with a telephone pole on the road and bounced back right into the close-following second one. Several of the occupants of the trucks were thrown out onto the road and badly bumped and bruised. Among this number was Mrs. William Boulton and her son William, Jr.

Miss Catherine Boulton, bookkeeper in the office of the Houtzdale Water Company, and sister of Henry Boulton, Esq., of Clearfield, who is in the party, but had escaped serious injury, thus rushed to the rescue of the injured.

The truck which had been upset was still in gear, with the power on, and the broken wheels were rapidly revolving. As Miss Boulton attempted to assist one of the victims out of the wreckage one of the protruding spokes from the broken wheel pierced her back, passing through the flesh and causing a frightful wound.

The painfully injured young woman was placed in a high powered car and taken immediately to the Cottage State hospital at Philipsburg where her wound was given a first attention and where she is now recovering nicely. None of the other victims of the wreck were seriously hurt.

H. B. POWELL BREAKS BONE IN HEEL WHEN APPLE TREE BREAKS

H. B. Powell, President of the County National Bank, will be hobbling about on crutches for several weeks with one of his legs in a plaster cast as the result of an accident which befell him at his home on So. Second St. Saturday afternoon when he sustained a broken bone in his heel.

Mr. Powell went out to his garden Saturday afternoon and while he was inspecting an apple tree he discovered a boy stealing apples. Wanting to heap coals of fire on the boy's head, Mr. Powell called to him and told him not to steal the apples. He would be glad to give him all he wanted simply for the asking. Then seeking to impress the lesson of "honesty being the best policy" upon the boy, the apple owner produced a ladder and leaning it against one of the limbs of the tree, showed up the ladder to get some apples. When he was several feet from the ground the limb broke and the apple picker was precipitated to the ground.

In falling one of the rungs of the ladder struck Mr. Powell across the heel and broke the bone. The fracture was reduced by his family physician and the foot and leg encased in a plaster cast and it will likely take several weeks to heal.

BOY SCOUT CAMP IS LOOTED BY VANDALS DURING PAST WEEK
Thieves broke into the Boy Scout camp up at McPherson's recently and made a clean up of the place, taking wearing apparel, equipment, etc., to the amount of $200 or $300.
The trunk of Scout Director Warren was broken into and rifled of its contents, Mr. Warren placing his loss at $200.
This is the second time this camp has been robbed since it was built last year and an earnest effort is being made to run the robbers down.

That's one thing that we are cranky about—repairs MUST be right. We get some watches and clocks to repair that look well nigh hopeless when they come in and when we hand them to the repairman that is to do the job the only thing we tell him is to do the job and do it so that it is done absolutely right—no telling him to hurry, no telling him to get it out quickly—BUT DO IT RIGHT.
That's one of the reasons why folks tell you that they are getting better watch and clock service here than they ever got anywhere before in this city. That's the reason why our repairmen are going just as fast as they can go and do good work, all the time.

Lewis Still Firm Against Arbitration
After a long caucus among themselves, the operators went directly into the afternoon meeting with the miners, refusing to announce whether they had reached any decision as to their demand. Some operators on the committee, however, were understood to have demanded that any agreement should provide for arbitration in the future. Before they held their caucus the operators had been told by President John L. Lewis that the miners would not accept arbitration.

Farrington's Position
Frank Farrington, the Illinois miners' president, who did not attend the committee session yesterday after serving notice that he did not regard any contract made here as a committee. In explanation of his position, Mr. Farrington made this statement:

"The unqualified statement that I have refused to sign a four-State agreement is enemy propaganda. As a matter of fact, at the time the story was circulated the miners and operators had not been able to get together on any kind of an agreement. However, I did tell my associates on the sub-scale committee that I would not sign a four-State agreement, embracing Illinois with only one Illinois operator, representing a production of 500,000 tons, present in the conference. To do that would mean that the particular mine in Illinois represented by this one operator would be allowed to go to work while the rest of the 95-000 mine workers in Illinois would be required to continue on strike. My position is that I will not sign a four-State agreement that does not give the Illinois miners to work at the same time."

Governor's Invited
A conference of Governors of bituminous coal producing States has been called to meet here on Tuesday to discuss the coal situation.

Governor Davis, of Ohio, and Groesbeck, of Michigan, late Saturday wired Governors McCray, of Indiana; Sprout, of Pennsylvania, and Small, of Illinois, invitations to attend Tuesday's meeting.

The invitations to the three Governors not here—Sprout, Small and McCray—was as follows:

"The situation in coal negotiations is such that we deem it advisable and helpful that you be here Tuesday morning next. Come either if convenient."

Brokers Limited on Profits.
The state fuel commission Saturday dealt a deathblow to the profiteering coal broker by arbitrarily fixing a maximum commission of 25 cents on the ton of bituminous coal between the mine and the consumer.

"Where several brokers in the past have successively taken a profit on coal before it reached the consumer, they will now all have the pleasure of dividing this 25 cents between them," remarked one member of the commission with a smile, following a meeting of that body in the Bellevue-Stratford.

The railroad transportation committee, which will have charge of priority arrangements for coal cars on railroads throughout the state, has been appointed by W. D. B. Ainey, chairman of the fuel commission, as follows: R. C. Morse, superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania system; J. T. Carbine, coal freight agent for the eastern region, Pennsylvania Railroad, and J. D. Lambis, purchasing agent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway.

The fuel commission at yesterday's session decided to meet again on Tuesday in Harrisburg.

So far as fixing the price of bituminous coal at the mines, it became clear early in yesterday's meeting that the matter will resolve itself into a local affair, varying with the mine expense, such as thickness of veins and other conditions which differ widely in the various sections of the state.

Tuesday's meeting will be for the purpose of obtaining additional information on the bituminous situation to enable the commission to take further action. The conference at Harrisburg has been called by Chairman Ainey for 2 o'clock eastern standard time or Tuesday.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

We have been requested to give the following space in this column:

A QUERY.
Dear Odds and Ends—Do the people of the wealthy county seat of Clearfield county know they have an institution called "the jail" in their midst in which men are confined for weeks and months, shut off from exercise, air and sunshine? In some cases with scarcely sufficient clothing to cover their body. Some of them have not yet had trial. They may be innocent.

Strange justice in a town so full of lawyers. "The chief good is the suspension of the judgment, which tranquillity of mind follows like its shadow."

—One Who Does Know.

The last heard of buffalo in Pennsylvania were put out of business in Snyder county in 1799, while the last great wild pigeon nesting places at Cherry Springs, Potter county, were destroyed in 1882, according to Henry W. Shoemaker, noted authority on Pennsylvania history and wild life, who also says: "The Carolina parakeet, the heathcock, the elk, the moose, the beaver and the fisher-fox were all wiped out in a few years, and the ruffed grouse or pheasant and the quail are following them fast. Dr. Hornaday has sounded a tocsin and it is to be hoped that our present wild animals and birds, will be given adequate protection."

Will C. Barnes had an interesting article on rattlesnakes in a recent number of American Forestry.

Mr. Barnes has had a very wide experience. At one time he was a wholesale and retail dealer in rattlesnakes. He has known of two deaths due to rattlesnake bite—one in 1898, the other in 1899. The remainder of about a dozen folks he has seen bitten have recovered.

Since I am quoting from Mr. Barnes' story, I might as well give his method of treating a rattlesnake bite. He says:

"Above all, do not lose your head. Throw a tourniquet around the limb above the point of bite. Slash the wound, that it may bleed freely. Suck as much poison as possible out of the wound. Of course, spit out the poison and blood sucked, but if a little gets into the stomach it will do no harm."

"Once every 10 to 15 minutes loosen the tourniquet for a minute, then tighten it again."

"Inject a solution of permanganate of potash into the wound. Throw this in with a hypodermic syringe if one is available. Induce sweating."

"If alcohol is given, never give more than a teaspoonful. People do not recover because of the whiskey used but in spite of it."

If, in an experience extending over a quarter of a century, Mr. Barnes has seen only two fatal cases, and both of these more than 20 years ago, rattlesnake bite is not often fatal. Nevertheless, there are people who greatly fear rattlesnake bite. In fact, fear is responsible for some of the symptoms following bite.

If it were generally known that a specific was available there would be less apprehension and following a bite, the factor of fear would be lessened.

More than 1,000,000 American children between 10 and 15 years of age are engaged in gainful occupation, 1,060,858 being the exact figure, according to a census bureau report. Out of every 1,000 boys between those ages 113 were recorded as employed either on their own account or for wages, while 5.6 per cent of the girls were so employed.

Declaring that the pistol "serves NO useful purpose" in the community, the Committee on Law Enforcement included in its recommendations submitted to the American Bar Association at San Francisco last week one for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of pistols, and of cartridges or ammunition designed to be used in them, "save as such manufacture shall be necessary for governmental and official use under proper legal regulation and control."

"We find that more than 90 per cent of the crimes in this country are committed by the use of pistols," continued the report of the committee, of which Judge William B. Swaney of Chattanooga, Tenn., was chairman. "We find that the laws prohibiting the carrying of firearms or deadly weapons are ineffective—in fact that their work to the benefit of the community rather than the law-abiding citizen."

Says Its Owner. What Do
You Think?

INEZ FORD

New York, Aug. 14.—Is there $25,000 worth of inspiration in this face? Could it move one's soul to write beautiful songs?

Miss Inez Ford, New York girl, who owns the face, says so. And a man she is suing for alleged breach of promise to marry says so.

A jury will have to decide. Meanwhile study the face and make up your own mind. Would it inspire you?

Miss Ford in her complaint declares she was the inspiration of a writer of popular song hits. After looking deeply into her eyes, she says, he'd reel off his compositions.

All this he denies—and also that he pledged to lead her to the marriage altar.

THE AMERICAN HOME

To the greatest number the American home is the purest symbol of nationality. Around it circle most of those things we like to remember. None but the very few expatriates view life abroad without wistfully casting back in their mind to the virtues and superiorities of the American home.

The cardinal element of the American home is its self-sufficiency. There is substantial reason for that. When this wonderful land was colonized it had to become either the prey of adventurers or the resource of constructive workers. Only by courageous effort, by a supreme devotion to the means of livelihood was the family established as the ancestor of this teeming people of great riches and superb achievement.

The foundation is in those homes, and ever must be; that is why the tradition of the American home is such an integral part of American life, as individual as any national characteristic can be, and as wholesome and permanent as anything man has created.

American society has traveled far and fast from the day of the stockade and prairie schooner. Some have it the journey has rubbed off the primitive virtues which made the rugged grandeur of the pioneer life. Modern invention has abolished most of the hardships, and not even the bitterest critic of modern social life can wish to bring back the perils and toils of the noble women who made those early American homes. It is probably true that the instincts are as true now as ever they were; that women remain women, and that the home is destined to endure as our most significant symbol.

The great upgrowth of big cities has indeed diminished the typical American home, the single residence, and to the extent that we have become a race of flat-dwellers, home-making has lost some of its sweetness. But that is in nowise the fault of the womanhood of the land who, perforce, follow the breadwinner in his quest for employment. Possibly the "better homes" week can recall the vision of the single home and impel the new generation of housewives to recreate, on modern lines, that which their mothers and grandmothers did in a different way.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS

Homing of the harvest will be a festival, indeed, this year. Nature promises her limit of bounty for the prosperity of the American people. Industry, wide-awake, is chafing to break the speed laws. Clashing elements among human atoms alone mar at the moment the prospect for a Thanksgiving in the late autumn of exceptional significance.

It has been a glorious season for the crops of the country, according to the August report of the government. Since the previous month's report the outlook for the harvest of many staples has increased by tens of millions of bushels. The figures are those of war debts and loans now applied to production that feed the people, challenges the capacity of commerce and enrich the nation. It is summarized in the word "bumper." A 3,000,000,000 bushel corn crop for the fourth time in the history of farming in the United States; a 93,100,000-ton hay crop, beating the 1919 crop by 1,300,000 tons; the second largest crop of white potatoes ever grown in the country—40,000,000 bushels; a record crop of sweet potatoes; a 200,000,000-bushel crop of apples, more than double that of last year; a peach crop second only to the record crop of 1915; the fourth largest crop of tobacco ever grown, estimated at 1,425,000,000 pounds—such are the forecasts based on the surveys of the government experts. The full details are almost romantic in their statistical immensity; more interesting than midsummer fiction read in hammocks at the seashore or in the mountains.

The crops are the basis of every people's prosperity, and when there be added to a bountiful harvest industrial health and vigor such as are reported from other governmental sources the no-materialization of tremendous prosperity can be due only to the contrariness in man. The natural combination spells employment and the dethronement of old High Cost of Living.

Marriage is usually looked at as something that brings change into a man's life. It also takes a lot out of his pocket.

A Chicago packer says the public is not taking advantage of the drop of 15 to 20 per cent in the price of hams. This is the first the public has heard about it.

Geologists who claim the earth is getting colder will be able to argue without diagrams next January.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry-Phelps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets.

Baby's Weight

The weight of your baby is important because it shows you whether or not he is thriving. If he does not gain for several weeks, something may be wrong. But at the same time it is necessary to take into consideration whether he is healthy and developing in other ways.

Some babies are smaller than others and grow more slowly. This does not necessarily mean they are less healthy.

If your baby sleeps soundly, has a good appetite, and digests his food well, and seems happy and strong you have no reason to worry even if the scales do not show a decided gain in weight every week. Do not overfeed your baby in an attempt to make him fat.

Some babies who are fed on prepared infant's food increase very rapidly in weight but not in strength and development.

A baby's average weight at birth is seven pounds. Most babies lose about one tenth of the birth weight during the first few days.

A normal breast-fed baby gains from 4 to 8 ounces a week the first six months of life, and after that from 4 to 6 ounces.

During the first five months, the average gain should be about 3 ounces, after that, about 4 ounces a week.

As a rule healthy babies gain steadily in weight every week during the first year, but from time to time there are periods of a few weeks when they do not gain at all. These are secure when they are cutting teeth or in very hot weather.

After the first year baby does not gain weight as steadily. For this reason weight is not as much of a guide to his condition after he is a year old.

Which says baby once a week during the first six months, and at least once in two weeks during the last 6 months of his first year. During his second year weight him about once a month. Keep a weekly chart of his weight. It is a help to you and to the doctor when you have him come.

To weigh your baby, undress him entirely. Put a soft cloth in the scale and lay the baby on it. Weigh carefully, note the result, and then remove the baby. Weigh the cloth, and then subtract this amount from the first weight.

Be sure that you weigh your baby under the same conditions every time. The baby's weight varies at different periods of the day.

You will save yourself needless worry if you do not attempt to compare the weight of your baby with another. No two babies are alike. They vary greatly. Some are short and fat, others long and thin, yet both types may be healthy. The attempt to standardize the weight of your baby or child according to his height has proved a failure. After all, the real test of health in a baby or child is his resistance to disease.

WIDOWED BY TONG, SHE SEEKS TO END CHINESE GANG WARS.

MRS. COONG TSE SING

By GENE COHN

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—It has been left for a woman to halt Chinese tong warfare after all the efforts of police, immigration officials and peacekeepers had failed.

And by her action, which sets a precedent in the Chinatowns of America, Chinese womanhood for the first time has dared to voice itself in the councils of tongmen.

Women sought and were refused a place at the peace council of world nations, but Mrs. Chong Tse Sing has shown what a woman can do.

Her husband had been slain by a highbinder's bullet. He had been president of the Suey Sings, proudest of the tongs.

Under the well-established war rules, at least five ordinary lives should be taken to equal the score. Also, it has been the custom for widows to enjoy such revenge.

Casts Tradition Aside.

But not for Mrs. Chong. She looked upon her five fatherless children and to her came the cry of other bereaved mothers. So she pressed her way into the war council. Only those versed in Chinese tradition may realize how daring was her step. And this was her message in musical Cantonese to the heads of the tong:

"It is given to men to make wars and fight them. But in the end it is the women who are asked to pay the price in bereavement.

"For, however goes the warfare there will be fatherless children and widows.

"Do not rob more children and wives! In my own grief it has come to me that my fellow women, against who I nurse no grudge, should be spared.

"Instead of revenge let me ask for peace! Why should the innocent suffer?

Asks Mercy for Others.
"As widow of the man whose death you would avenge, as the one most directly affected, let me plead for the other women and children."

Such, says Mrs. Chong, must be the plea of all Chinese women in the future.

And it has brought a halt to what might have proved one of the bitterest tong wars on the Pacific coast.

getting wages of a lower purchasing value than those of before the war. Lines of coal cars were filed away on sidings. Shipping rates were down almost to the prewar levels but bottoms went begging. Demand was drying up in nearly all normal markets, and losses in many cases were so heavy as to foretell an irretrievable financial disaster.

Then came orders from strike-smitten America. That noise you heard in the east was loud cheers in Cardiff and Glasgow and Newcastle.

There was talk of the miners refusing to "scab" on the American strikers. William Straker, general Miners' Federation, said he considered it unlikely that the federation could take any official action against the export of coal to America—"for obvious reasons."

Last year American miners increased production during the national coal strike here, and the British miners have not forgotten. Moreover, wages have been so near the starvation line and there has been so much unemployment that a job looks like a job.
